

Classroom and Office Suite, Harvard Department of History of Art & Architecture

Located on the fifth floor of the Sackler Museum building, this project included a small classroom for teaching of seminars and faculty meetings.

Eleven faculty offices were created. Each office featured ample shelving for books, file cabinets for storage, and a built-in light table, used for sorting art history slides.

Completed Fall 2004.

