

Matthews Hall basement lounge, Harvard College

This small project transformed a suite of small, windowless rooms in the basement of a dorm on Harvard Yard into an appealing and exciting student lounge and study area.

The inexpensive addition of an unglazed hollow metal storefront subdivided the space and defined an egress corridor. Strong paint colors, bright lighting, new resilient flooring, and new furniture completed the transformation.

Completed Fall 2007.

